President's Letter

BECAUSE THE ISSUE I CHOSE TO WRITE ABOUT IS VERY CONTROVERSIAL, I WANT TO START WITH A
DISCLAIMER. THIS IS NOT INTENDED IN ANY WAY, SHAPE OR FORM AS ENDORSING EITHER POINT OF VIEW. IT IS ONLY INTENDED TO START A DIALOG.

I have been giving the monument issue a lot of thought lately. How can you avoid it when it is in every media outlet? I don't have an answer. I certainly could never think of a solution that would satisfy all. However, I do have some random thoughts on the issue.

To those who view the monuments as celebrating a time of oppression, I say this: Don't view the Civil War and its history as a time of oppression; rather choose to view it as a source of strength. Remember the past to remember what your ancestors overcame so you can be what you have become today.

Don't tear down someone else's story. Build your own. Tell your history so people can understand and appreciate the great contributions that have been given to our country. It is a great story.

Instead of tearing down a history story, my wish is that this same energy to destroy would be used to create a tangible evidence of a history so often overlooked or underappreciated. Use your energy to teach.

To those who wish the monuments to remain, study both sides of Civil War history. Learn why what you revere may offend another.

Violence is not the answer. Tearing down or hiding history is not the answer. The answer may be in true meaningful dialog. You don't have to win the argument. You only have to respect the other person's opinion and agree to continue a meaningful, sincere search for understanding.

News About Members and Friends

Bill Curtis is back at home after spending time in the hospital from June 9th to July 14th. Unfortunately he brought home an infection which is being treated with new antibiotics. Bill has had another fall which brings his total up to two broken hips. We wish the best to both Bill and Annette.

Barbara Hughes is winding down her first person programs for the season. Her “Titanic” program featuring Mrs. Mahala Douglas and her husband, Walter, has proved to be very popular. She will be doing one at the Blue Springs South Library on Friday, September 1, 2017 at 2:00 p.m. and Thursday, September 7th at 7:00 p.m. at the Riverside Library. She has also researched a family history of William and Rhoda Harris of Blue Springs to give at the Harris Family Reunion on September 10th. Some of their relatives also lived in the area where the Drumm Farm and Milton Estates are today in Independence.

The City of Independence will be sponsoring the Heritage Festival on Saturday, September 30, 2017 from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. at Hill Park, 2201 S. Maywood Avenue. Showcased through live stage entertainment, food vendors, merchandise booths and children’s activities, the variety of cultures and history of the citizens of Independence will be highlighted. The annual Ted Stillwell Heritage Award will be presented to an outstanding citizen.

The National Frontier Trails Museum has now been transferred from the State of Missouri to the City of Independence by the signing of a bill in August by Gov. Eric Greitens. It opened 27 years ago and is in need of architectural repairs and hopefully an expansion to better tell the story of Independence in the historic Santa Fe, Oregon, and California trails in the decades before the Civil War as well as those of the Mormon Trail and the Lewis and Clark journey of 1804-06.

Karen Wells celebrated her 75th birthday on August 19th with family and friends and thanks everyone for their remembrance.

Quantrill Reunion

Harold Dellinger has once again come up with interesting stories in the career of William Clarke Quantrill and his associates for the annual Quantrill Reunion. Lafayette County is the site this year of the Greenton Cemetery with the numerous engagements in the Greenton and Texas Prairie area. At Lexington the focus will be on Annie Fickle and Andy Blunt who attempted to break guerrilla Otho Hinton out of prison. Brant Meer and Jennifer Kerr will tell that story in a presentation called “Bad Girls of Lafayette County.” Odessa is where Annie Fickle presented the Quantrill flag to him.

The annual awards banquet will honor Ralph Monaco and Harold Dellinger with the “Don Hale Award.” Chris Edwards will receive the “Captain Napoleon David Award” and Thomas Rafiner will receive the “John Newman Edwards Award.”

Membership in the Quantrill Society is $12 a year.
